1. The village of Pechenga (N69-33, E31-12), Murmansk Oblast, USSR, consists of approximately 60 one-story and two-story buildings which do not appear to have been laid out according to plan. The buildings are unpainted and appear to be of new construction. No evidence of industrial activity [redacted]. The only smoke seen was that which came from the chimneys of houses at night. 50X1-HUM
2. Two other settlements are located near the village of Pechenga. One is a group of ten houses adjacent to the road running due east from the southern tip of Pechenga Bay. All of these buildings are one-story high and appear to be of new construction. The second settlement is located on a tip of land extending out into Pechenga Bay, at a point just east of the Rovaniemi (Finland)-Pechenga highway. This is a small settlement consisting of one-story houses which also appear to have been newly constructed.
